The perfect solution to help your learners advance their education

Did you know Pearson offers a program called Accelerated Pathways that helps busy working adults take college courses in a flexible and affordable environment? Our personal advisors lead students through their academic journey and provide college options that best fit their degree path of interest.

Are your learners employed?

We partner with corporations all over the US to offer tuition assistance benefits. On average, companies provide around $6,000 per employee per year, though many companies are beginning to increase their educational benefits as they see the positive net impact it has on their business. Many employees don’t know this – help us spread the word!

Here’s why adult learners succeed in our program:

- Self-paced
  No semesters or set schedules. Students can progress through course material at a pace that fits their learning style and availability.

- Supportive
  World-class academic advisors give students the support they need—from choosing a degree to enrolling in courses to success coaching.

- Transferrable
  All courses are regionally accredited (the most stringent and widely recognized accreditation) and guaranteed to transfer to the student’s target college.

- Low-cost
  Courses cost 36% less than the national average. All material and books are included. Students can just pay as they go and graduate debt-free.

- Flexible
  Study whenever/wherever. A laptop and internet connection are all students need to join our user-friendly online learning platform.

- Reimbursable
  Many working students qualify for tuition assistance from their employers. We help them take advantage of this benefit to earn a low- to no-cost degree.
