On-Screen Color Combinations for the GED® Test

When you take the GED® test, you can change what your test looks like. Choose from 11 different color combinations for your test’s text and background colors. Choose the color combination that is easiest for you to read on your computer screen. You can change the colors at any time during the test, and as many times as you want.

Changing the colors of your test is simple. Just choose the colors from the dropdown menu, shown below in the red box.
Normal Color Scheme

Welcome, Candidate Name!
Here is some information that you need to know before you start this test:

- You should not spend too much time on a question if you are not certain of the answer; answer it the best you can, and go on to the next question.
- If you are not certain of the answer to a question, you can mark your answer using the "Flag for Review" on the question’s screen. At the end of the test, you can return to the question using the "Question Review Screen.”
- Some questions are based on materials presented on the left side of a split screen. Make sure to read each page on the left side before trying to answer the questions on the right side of the screen.

Black on White

Welcome, Candidate Name!
Here is some information that you need to know before you start this test:

- You should not spend too much time on a question if you are not certain of the answer; answer it the best you can, and go on to the next question.
- If you are not certain of the answer to a question, you can mark your answer using the "Flag for Review" on the question’s screen. At the end of the test, you can return to the question using the "Question Review Screen.”
- Some questions are based on materials presented on the left side of a split screen. Make sure to read each page on the left side before trying to answer the questions on the right side of the screen.
Black on Light Yellow

Science

Welcome, Candidate Name!

Here is some information that you need to know before you start this test:

- You should not spend too much time on a question if you are not certain of the answer; answer the best you can, and go on to the next question.
- If you are not certain of the answer to a question, you can mark your answer using the "Flag for Review" on the question's screen. At the end of the test, you can return to the question using the "Question Review Screen."
- Some questions are based on materials presented on the left side of a split screen. Make sure to read each page on the left side before trying to answer the questions on the right side of the screen.

Black on Yellow

Science

Welcome, Candidate Name!

Here is some information that you need to know before you start this test:

- You should not spend too much time on a question if you are not certain of the answer; answer the best you can, and go on to the next question.
- If you are not certain of the answer to a question, you can mark your answer using the "Flag for Review" on the question's screen. At the end of the test, you can return to the question using the "Question Review Screen."
- Some questions are based on materials presented on the left side of a split screen. Make sure to read each page on the left side before trying to answer the questions on the right side of the screen.
Black on Salmon

Science

Welcome, Candidate Name!

Here is some information that you need to know before you start this test:

- You should not spend too much time on a question if you are not certain of the answer. Answer it the best you can, and go on to the next question.
- If you are not certain of the answer to a question, you can mark your answer using the "Flag for Review" on the question's screen. At the end of the test, you can return to the question using the "Question Review Screen."
- Some questions are based on materials presented on the left side of a split screen. Make sure to read each page on the left side before trying to answer the questions on the right side of the screen.

Blue on White

Science

Welcome, Candidate Name!

Here is some information that you need to know before you start this test:

- You should not spend too much time on a question if you are not certain of the answer. Answer it the best you can, and go on to the next question.
- If you are not certain of the answer to a question, you can mark your answer using the "Flag for Review" on the question's screen. At the end of the test, you can return to the question using the "Question Review Screen."
- Some questions are based on materials presented on the left side of a split screen. Make sure to read each page on the left side before trying to answer the questions on the right side of the screen.
Blue on Yellow

GED.com

White on Black

GED.com
Light Yellow on Black

Science

Welcome, Candidate Name!

Here is some information that you need to know before you start this test:

- You should not spend too much time on a question if you are not certain of the answer; answer it the best you can, and go on to the next question.
- If you are not certain of the answer to a question, you can mark your answer using the "Flag for Review" on the question’s screen. At the end of the test, you can return to the question using the "Question Review Screen."
- Some questions are based on materials presented on the left side of a split screen. Make sure to read each page on the left side before trying to answer the questions on the right side of the screen.

Yellow on Black

Science

Welcome, Candidate Name!

Here is some information that you need to know before you start this test:

- You should not spend too much time on a question if you are not certain of the answer; answer it the best you can, and go on to the next question.
- If you are not certain of the answer to a question, you can mark your answer using the "Flag for Review" on the question’s screen. At the end of the test, you can return to the question using the "Question Review Screen."
- Some questions are based on materials presented on the left side of a split screen. Make sure to read each page on the left side before trying to answer the questions on the right side of the screen.
White on Blue

Welcome, Candidate Name!

Here is some information that you need to know before you start this test:

- You should not spend too much time on a question if you are not certain of the answer; answer it the best you can and go on to the next question.

- If you are not certain of the answer to a question, you can mark your answer using the "Flag for Review" on the question's screen. At the end of the test, you can return to the question using the "Question Review Screen."

- Some questions are based on materials presented on the left side of a split screen. Make sure to read each page on the left side before trying to answer the questions on the right side of the screen.

Yellow on Blue

Welcome, Candidate Name!

Here is some information that you need to know before you start this test:

- You should not spend too much time on a question if you are not certain of the answer; answer it the best you can and go on to the next question.

- If you are not certain of the answer to a question, you can mark your answer using the "Flag for Review" on the question's screen. At the end of the test, you can return to the question using the "Question Review Screen."

- Some questions are based on materials presented on the left side of a split screen. Make sure to read each page on the left side before trying to answer the questions on the right side of the screen.